ABSTRACT

The document is composed of a student book examining the world of work for the fifth grade level; a teacher's manual, a student book, individualized career studies, and a skill center booklet for the sixth grade level; and a packet called life-centered curriculum for elementary education. The fifth grade student book contains a glossary and six lessons, which promote self-awareness and career awareness through matching, completion, and reading exercises. The teacher's manual consists of seven parts examining the Career and Skill Center Program used in conjunction with an occupational clusters unit. The sixth grade student activity book for occupational clusters contains six sections dealing with the labor field, job applications and interviews, on-the-job training, and social security. The individualized career studies examine hospital careers through various learning activities. The skill center booklet contains activities related to a variety of occupations. The overview of the life-centered curriculum program discusses the purpose, scope, teacher involvement, format, pilot program, community, proposals, background, and components. Sixteen unit abstracts cover self, career, and educational awareness. The changing roles in the world of work unit, designed for upper primary grades, is organized around five objectives with large and small group strategies specified.

INTRODUCTION

In this study, our goal is to realize that each of us is more than just skin and bones, and some of the things that make us different are called traits, abilities and interests. We will try to learn more about ourselves by studying our own traits and abilities. We'll see how our interests affect what we do, and how we do it.

Can you see why this study is important? By understanding ourselves, we can not only learn to live with others, but also we can know more fully what we can and cannot do as a person.

The more thought you give to planning your future, the better prepared you will be for it!

Have you ever dreamed about the job you will have when you grow up? Most boys and girls have. This new material you're going to study is about those jobs. The study is called, "The World of Work" and it will do two things:

1. It will help you to know more about jobs.
2. You will have a chance to discover some things about yourself.

Fifth grade is not too early to begin to think about your future. You can see many jobs by looking around your neighborhood, your school, your own house! How about your Dad? Can you name good and bad things about his work? Is he satisfied? Would you feel the same way about that job?

Those are some of the questions that will help you find out about what you can do.

When everyone has finished this page, share the jobs you have written down with your class. As you tell the class about them, be sure to say why you picked these jobs, (why you might like them).

Look at the "Help Wanted" section of a newspaper. You will find many different kinds of work. Pretend you are looking for a job and make a list of those jobs you would be interested in. After you list each job, copy any information you want to from the want-ad.

Name of Job

Facts About The Job

[illegible]

Traits - are words used to tell how people act.

Example: honesty, bravery, laziness, tardiness, loyalty

Can you name some others? Remember! They are words that tell how people act. You may use more than one word, such as "hard working".

Discuss these with your teacher and classmates, then do the exercise below: Choose one of the traits listed that you think best completes each sentence.

Alert, Bravery, Fair, Kindness, Honest

- a. George Washington was a very _____ man.
- b. Tarzan is known for his _____.
- c. The crossing guard on the corner is very _____.
- d. A referee in a hockey game has to be _____ to both teams.
- e. _____ to animals is an important trait.

Ability - power, skill, talent

Can you find the root word in "ability"? Write here what you think it is. _____ You can check to see if your answer is right by turning this sheet upside down and looking in the corner. People have different abilities because they are able to do different things. For example, you are able to do things an adult cannot do....and an adult has the ability to do things that you cannot do. These differences are based on many things, such as age, training, size, etc.

Some examples of abilities are:

1. strong athlete _____
2. good cook _____
3. leadership _____
4. good salesman _____
5. musical _____

Opposite each ability listed, write the name of someone whom you think has that ability.

Interest - a feeling of wanting to know, see or own something
I'm sure you know many things in which you have an interest. For example: sports, swimming, special TV shows, your friends, etc. List 3 things you have a special interest in.

- a. _____
- b. _____
- c. _____

Are you sure what the words traits, ability and interest mean? Do this exercise to find out. Put an A before the sentences that tell about an ability, put a T before the sentences that tell about a trait, put an I before the sentences that tell about an interest.

- ___ a. Sally thinks that being a model would be a fun career.
- ___ b. Oscar Robertson is tall enough to be a star basketball player.
- ___ c. Abraham Lincoln was known as "Honest Abe".
- ___ d. Carol likes rock music.
- ___ e. Paul Bunyon and Pecos Bill were strong enough to do almost anything.
- ___ f. My brother is always kind to his dog.

Personality...what a long word! Let's take it apart and see what's in it.

Person - you, me, my friend, anyone

Personal - something that has to do with ME.

Personality - all the things that make me different from others, mainly the traits, abilities, and interests that I have.

Think - your personality is what "makes you tick" in your own special way. It will be a very important factor in the type of work you do someday.

Our self-study will cover your PERSONALITY first, because it is so important.

PERSONALITY

Other Ways to Learn About Jobs

As you continue growing up, the things you study at school and the jobs you do at home or after school will help you discover the things you can do well and will like to do. Also, the kind of boy or girl you are, the things you like, your friends--- all these things have a great deal to do with the job you choose.

For Example: You know that there are no two people just alike. Look at the boy or girl nearest you. Are you taller or shorter than him? Do you both have the same color hair, or skin, or weigh the same?

I'm sure you will feel that you not only look different but also that you differ in other things, such as favorite games, subjects in school and sports. In other words you can see that you have your own traits and interests that make you-----you!

Now, because you differ from other people, your choice of jobs in the world of work will be different from that of others. Let's start out by thinking what kind of work you are interested in.

What Kind of Personality Do You Have?

Join a partner to do this exercise.

Talk over each set of personality traits and decide which one best suits each of you.

In each box put a check mark (✓) beside the one quality which you feel best describes the way you look, feel, or behave most of the time.

What Do You Like to Do?

Choose a friend and do this exercise as a team of two. One person should ask the other if he has the traits listed here.

Put a check mark () beside ten that you both feel best tell what he is like. Keep all your work sheets in your folder.

- | | |
|---|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> good at handling money | <input type="checkbox"/> enjoy working with people |
| <input type="checkbox"/> like drawing | <input type="checkbox"/> have a good memory |
| <input type="checkbox"/> good at meeting new people | <input type="checkbox"/> enjoy working with very small children |
| <input type="checkbox"/> people turn to you for advice | <input type="checkbox"/> like to travel |
| <input type="checkbox"/> have a good imagination | <input type="checkbox"/> not afraid of heights |
| <input type="checkbox"/> able to get things organized | <input type="checkbox"/> don't mind hard work |
| <input type="checkbox"/> like sports | <input type="checkbox"/> interested in anything that has to do with outer space |
| <input type="checkbox"/> like to read | <input type="checkbox"/> have good handwriting |
| <input type="checkbox"/> like to work with your hands (build models, knit, sew, etc.) | <input type="checkbox"/> physically strong |
| <input type="checkbox"/> like to work outdoors | <input type="checkbox"/> like to work with animals |
| <input type="checkbox"/> like to create fashions or design cars | <input type="checkbox"/> like to work by yourself |

After you have marked the ten traits that you feel you have, copy them on these lines.

With your partner, think of some jobs that would call for the traits you listed above. Write the jobs here:

"What Do You Like to Do?"My Likes and Dislikes

1. Subjects I like to read about: _____

2. My favorite TV show: _____
3. My favorite sport: to play _____ to watch _____
4. Hobbies: _____

5. My best subject: _____
6. Jobs I have had: _____

7. My clubs: _____

8. My favorite book: _____

What Do You Like to Do?

Now, because you differ from other people, your choice of jobs in the world of work will be different from that of others. Let's start out by thinking what kind of work you would like to do. Here is a list of many different jobs. Put a check mark () beside the ones you think you'd like to have. Put a cross (X) beside the ones you think you would not like to have.

Henry and Tom

Which One Are You Like?

Henry and Tom are brothers, but they are not alike. When they were both in school, Henry was a good student, had good grades, did well on his tests, and asked good questions. He knew school was important. The teacher could depend on him, he was honest, wanted to do a good job, and helped other people. He was the kind of person you want to be.

Tom was very different from Henry. When Tom was in school, he didn't care at all about school. He stayed home often, he came late, he did not listen, and he was almost thrown out of school. Tom thought school was a waste of time. He couldn't wait to be old enough to quit school, find a job, work for a boss, and make a salary so he could buy things.

Henry and Tom both finished school and found jobs. Henry went to work as a mechanic. He acted the same way that he did in school. He had listened and learned the things in school that would help him keep his job. He did the right things in school so he would know what to do when he went to work.

Tom had never learned the right things in school. He lost the job because he lost some tools. He didn't know what was important to hold a job. The sad part is he wants to work and make money but he had never learned how. He has not learned what he needs to know to hold a job.

Almost everyone wants to get a job and make money, but many people just don't know how. Will you be a Henry or a Tom? You should begin now while you are in school to learn the things that will help you get and hold a job later in life. It will be too late to learn things once you are out of school.

1. Which person in the story do you think is better, Henry or Tom?

2. Put a check next to the answers which tell why you felt one boy was better.

  earns his own way	  took care of tools
  always was late	  wanted to be a success
  always was on time	  didn't care

3. Do you think school and work are alike? Some things you do in school are almost like things you would have to do on a job. Also there are things you can do in school that you cannot do on a job without being fired. The list below gives two choices. Put a check () in Column A for the things that are alike in school and work. Put a check in Column B if they are different.

(Alike)	(Different)
 	1. Being on Time
	School: We must be on time. If we are too late often, we have to stay after school.
	Work: We must be on time. If we are late too often, we will be fired.
 	2. Doing Our Work
	School: If we don't do our work, we get low marks, but we can still come to school.
	Work: If we don't do our work, we lose our salary and are fired.
 	3. Talking Back
	School: If we talk back to the teacher we are punished. When we learn to be nice we are not punished any-more.
	Work: If we talk back to the boss we get fired and lose our salary.
 	4. Being a Good Worker
	School: If we work hard, we can get higher marks.
	Work: If we work hard, we can get a higher salary.

These are just a few ways to compare school and work. If you want to become the kind of person who can hold a job, make good money, and be happy while you do it... listen carefully in school. You learn a lot about being a good worker and keeping a job. Learn these things while you're in school. Practice them every day.

4. Study the list below to find out if the things that make good or bad students are alike or different from being a good or bad worker. Put a check() in the column next to each one, Column A if you think they are alike, Column B if you think they are different.

(Alike)	(different)
		1. Being on Time
		Good Student: is on time
		Good Worker: is on time
		2. Ready for Work
		Good Student: has had a good night's sleep, clean, has had breakfast, has books, pencil, pen ready.
		Good Worker: has had a good night's sleep, clean, has had breakfast, has tools ready.
		3. Doing Your Best
		Good Student: Works hard, follows directions, keeps trying.
		Good Worker: Works hard, follows directions, keeps trying.
		4. Attendance
		Good Student: is at school every day; if he is absent, he has an excuse.
		Good Worker: is at work every day. The boss can depend on him. If he is absent, he has a reason.

Write a paragraph that tells how school is or is not the same as work. Include information gained by interviewing your parents and either your teacher or someone who works in your neighborhood.

Use this sheet to help you during the interview.

1. What are two qualities that a person should have to be either a good student or a good worker? _____

2. What is meant by a "good attitude" toward school or work?

3. What work habits can a student learn in school that will help him in the World of Work? _____

- A. What would you say if you were told these things? Put an X on the line in front of your answer.

3. Write what you would say when your sister or brother says, "Will you get some stamps for me on your way home?"

See how many of the spaces below you can fill in with jobs that are found everywhere.

Another way of grouping jobs is in the amount of skill needed to do the work. In a factory, workers are grouped as:

unskilled

semi-skilled skilled

Let's think about the word SKILL!

SKILL: an ability gained by practice.

There are many kinds of skills, and they are all a result of practice or training. Pitching a curve ball is a skill resulting from many hours of training. Typing rapidly is a skill resulting from practice and training.

What 3 skills can you name?

a. _____

b. _____

c. _____

In factory work, people are paid differently for doing unskilled, semi-skilled or skilled work. There are two important things that make the work different: a. the amount of training needed and

b. how difficult the job is

Unscramble these words to make a sentence.

Is of a as skill gained a training result.

The pages that follow will tell you about training for a skill to do jobs that may be more difficult than others.

UNSKILLED WORKERS

An unskilled worker usually has a job that needs no special training. These are jobs such as lifting cartons, wrapping boxes, digging holes, chopping wood, etc. Look at the pictures below; these are examples of unskilled workers. The words that describe these workers are listed at the bottom of the page. Choose the right title and write it under each picture.

washing dishes

raking leaves

shoveling dirt

loading trucks

Can you name other unskilled jobs? Think of the places you see on your way to school and the people who work there---for instance, the supermarket, the gas station, the parking lots. From the people you see working in these places, write down two jobs that would be called unskilled.

1. _____
2. _____

A Gloomy Picture

Unskilled workers receive the least amount of money. Their work is very tiring. With the many new machines used in factories today, there are less and less jobs open for unskilled workers...because machines do the work, and machines do not have to be paid!

SEMI-SKILLED

The next level of jobs in a factory is called semi-skilled. There are more semi-skilled workers than there are any other kind of workers.

Look up the meaning of "semi" in the dictionary. Write its meaning here. _____

Can you guess what semi-skilled means now? Write what you think the meaning is _____

The training for a semi-skilled worker is not very long and the pay is good. Some examples of the kinds of jobs in this group are machine operators, bus and truck drivers and custodians. The training for these semi-skilled jobs is done on the job. No special schooling is needed. On-the-job training is done by a more experienced person. The semi-skilled worker gets his training while he is working on his job- he earns as he learns.

The pictures below are of semi-skilled workers whose job titles are listed below. Put the correct job title under each picture.

telephone operator bus driver machine operator drill press operator

1. partly skilled
2. experience
3. no special training
4. on-the-job training
5. skilled worker

Use the words above to complete this paragraph on semi-skilled workers.

Semi-skilled means (1) _____.

The skill needed is learned through (2) ex_____ (3) no _____ in school is needed. The semi-skilled worker receives (4) _____ and is under the care of a (5) _____.

SKILLED WORKERS

Look in the glossary to find the meaning of these words. Write the meanings on the lines below:

apprentice _____

apprenticeship _____

promotion _____

experience _____

SKILLED WORKERS OR WORKERS WHO HAVE DEVELOPED A SKILL

All skilled workers learn their skill as an apprentice, working as they learn. Complete this sentence by putting a circle around the correct word.

An apprentice is a person who is (learning, teaching) a skill.

A skilled worker must have at least three years of apprentice training. When an apprentice finishes his training, he has earned the right to be called a journeyman. This means that he has finished his training period and he will receive more pay. Also, skilled workers do more difficult work. They must be able to know how to do many kinds of work and he must be able to supervise others.

Copy the six underlined words or phrases on the lines below. When you have done this, you will see all the phrases that describe a SKILLED WORKER.

_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____

Look at the pictures below. These are examples of skilled workers. The job titles that describe the pictures are listed at the bottom of the page. Choose the correct job title and write it under each picture.

plumber

airline mechanic

builder

ANOTHER GROUP OF WORKERS

The Technician

(Say tek - nish - an) You have all heard the term "X-ray technician" or "TV technician." Do you know where the technician is in the World of Work? He is a person MORE highly trained than the skilled workers we have just studied. For his work, he must have special training in a school. He can get this training in a technical high school - such as Central Technical High School - where these special courses can be taken as part of his high school education or as night school courses while he is working daytimes. There are also special technical schools which offer two year courses that prepare people for technical jobs in drafting, (drawing plans) computer work, X-ray technicians, etc.

With this special training, a person does higher level work and receives good pay. This is a very big field in the World of Work with many chances to get ahead.

Look at the pictures that follow. These are examples of technicians. The job titles that describe the pictures are listed below. Choose the correct job title and write it under each picture.

1. lab technician 2. draftsman 3. X-ray technician 4. radio and TV technician

Do you know who this is a picture of? It is Professor Jenkins. Write here what you think he does _____

To find out if your answer is right, turn the page upside down and look in the left hand corner. Copy all the underlined words and phrases, above, on these lines:

Introduction

This manual is written primarily for those upper intermediate teachers (6th grade) whose classes will be participating in the Career and Skill Center Program. A special Life Centered Curriculum unit, Occupational clusters, has been written to be used in conjunction with this program. The first five objectives of this unit provide a framework for exploring the 15 occupational clusters as defined by the U.S. Government and relating the students own interests and skills to the world of work. The last objective introduces the student booklet (also entitled Occupational Clusters) which deals with the world of labor, including classes of workers, labor laws, social security. The unit, including a copy of the student booklet, will be distributed in the Life Centered Curriculum unit notebook complete with answer keys.

This manual is a description of the Career and Skill Center visits; what the teacher should do in preparation for the visits, what the children should bring etc. The portions of the skill center manual which must be done in the class room prior to your visit, is presented as well as some extra teacher aids in using the booklet. You have been sent your individual schedule.

The final portion is a description of the Individual Career studies phase of the program including an overview of each of the Individual Studies, and the answer keys.

PART 11The Career Center Visit

Where: The Career Center is a specially designed classroom (at Franklin School Room 105, 428 S. Alvord St.) It is divided into 17 individual booths which will accomodate two students at a time. Most boths are equipped with a tape recorder, two headsets and a tape directing the student in the booth as well as pictures, hands-on-material and worksheets for each student to use. (See diagrams) A card is at the center of each booth telling students what they should do in that booth.

When. Individual teacher schedules have been distributed. Each classroom will spend two full days at Franklin School:

	A.M.	P.M.
Day 1	Career Center	Skill Center
Day 2	Skill Center	Skill Center

Bag Lunches and Milk Money must be brought each day.

Note. All instruction at Franklin School will be conducted by the Life Centered Staff under the supervision of the classroom teacher.

How: Transportation has been arranged for you and your class. The district bus will transport your class to and from the Career Center and the Skill Center. The bus will arrive at your school no later than 9:15 A.M. and will leave Franklin at 2:15 P.M. to return to your building. Please have your class ready when the bus arrives.

Before Career Center and Skill Center Visit

Before your class comes to the Career Center, and the Skill Center there are several procedures to follow which will facilitate your visit.

1. If possible, have the student Occupational Clusters Booklet finished and the classroom portions of the Skill Center booklet completed.
2. Check to make sure you know the dates and times of your schedule.
3. Distribute the diagram of the Career Center and the diagram of the tape recorder and headset. Have the children keep them to bring with them to the center.
4. BRING TO FRANKLIN EACH DAY: Bag lunches, milk money, Skill Center Book and pencils.
5. Divide the class into pairs of two. Assign each group a number from one up to seventeen. The number they receive will correspond to the booth in which they are to start.
6. Remind them that on the days of their visits they are to bring a bag lunch and money for milk.
7. Each child should have his or her own sharpened pencil. Have each student make a folder in which to put the sheets they will collect in the Career Center booths.
8. Bring completed order blank (next page).

Upon Arriving At the Career Center:

When you arrive at Franklin School classes will be in session. Stress that good manners are important as other students in the building are working. You will come in the Boy's Playground Door at the left end of the building and be met by a member of the Life Centered Curriculum Staff.

Coats, boots, etc. will be removed in the room. By doing this, we shall minimize any chance of disturbing other classes. Please see that your class enters in single file and in silence.

After the children have removed their wraps, and been greeted, proceed to the Career Center booth which corresponds with their number. A bell will ring which will signal the children to begin.

Upon Arriving at the Career Center

At the end of the allotted time, the bell will ring again and they will move on to the next highest numbered booth. The Teacher Assistant will be on hand to direct the children through the center.

The pupils will take their lunches to the Cafeteria where milk is provided for (6¢ for white & 7¢ for chocolate) per pupil.

Upon finishing the program for the day, the children will return to their own schools via bus at 2:15 P.M.

PART III

The Skill Center Visit

The skill trainer phase of the sixth grade program will be immediately following the Career Center visit. The Skill Center is also located in Franklin School in Room 106. Your individual schedules will inform you of the days you will be visiting the Skill Center.

The Skill Center teacher will conduct the students in the activities of the center. Materials will be supplied except the food for the Restaurant portion. It will be necessary for you to plan with your class a simple menu. Have members of the class bring the necessary ingredients with them to prepare in the Skill Center. Some suggestions are:

Kool Aid (2 or 3 packs of pre sweetened)
Frozen Pizza (6 to 8 boxes) or Hot dogs & buns
Cake (cake mix, eggs, frosting Mix)
Cake (Brownies, etc.)

As a rule, the students who will be using the Restaurant Careers Studies will run the Restaurant operation. The Skill Center is equipped with 7 different interest areas. These include:

A Woodworking shop	A Health Center
2 Sewing machines	(with hospital bed &
2 Electric typewriters	life size dummy)
A Restaurant area (with a	2 cash registers
cash register)	(additional)

The Skill Centers purpose is to give each child a hands on experience in working with real tools and equipment. Easy instructions for making things (such as a bird house, an apron) and for using the equipment, are found in the students booklet. The Skill Center teacher will instruct and supervise the children as they proceed in the Skill Trainer. It is important that the classroom pages of the Skill Trainer booklet be completed before the visit to the Skill Center.

A suggestion for assigning children to certain areas in the Skill Center is to correlate as much as possible the Career Studies they choose to the specific interest area.
For example:

Health Careers	Hospital area
Hospital Careers
Restaurant Workers	Restaurant Area & Oper.

Hopefully, each student will have the opportunity to experience several of the various interest areas during their visit to the Skill Center.

Stress with your students that consideration and cooperation is important if each person in the class is to enjoy and receive the maximum opportunities of the van.

Below is a description of the Skill Center Booklet and tips for teaching those pages done in the classroom prior to the visit.

These pages are exercises in preparation for the restaurant part of the Skill Center. At this point, you should designate which students will perform the following functions: a manager, 2 cooks, 2 bakers, 2 waiter/waitress. The suggestions for menus are listed in the general guide for the visit to the Skill Center.

These pages depict the various tools that are in the wood shop of the Skill Center. Review the pages with the class by giving the following question and directions:

1. What is a try square used for?
2. Draw a circle around the try square.
3. Draw a circle around the plane used for building things.
4. Draw a circle around the saw that is used for cutting curves.
5. What kind of hammer is used mostly on metal?
6. What is a hack saw used for?
7. What is the difference between a spike and a common nail?
8. Circle the tool which is used to hold down the materials.
9. Put a circle around the Phillips Screwdriver.

This page is self-explanatory. However, it is essential that the children be so familiar with the numbers, and what they mean in their place, that they are readily able to transfer this knowledge and use it on page 14 (bill of materials).

A brief introduction to linear metric measurement required here for student without prior exposure to metrics.
(Eq: mm means millimeter)

(cm means centimeter)

The page (13) can be used to show the difference and approximate size of cm's & mm's.

Note: Do not try to compare metrics with standard american measure. This will confuse rather than clear up the issue. Treat metrics as a separate measurements method.

A sample plan to build a bird house using the metric system of measurement. There are 10 different plans in the skill center. The list of the projects is on page 16. All plans consist of an assembly drawing and a bill of materials.

Suggested large group activity: Have the students practice measuring the sides of a bird house on a piece of paper.

Note: They must start measuring from a corner of the page to allow them to easily cut out the part.

1. start here

2. Measure length and mark it
3. Measure width and mark it
4. Place edge of ruler at edge of paper, draw length and width where they were marked

This is a further review for the wood working shop describing a bill of materials with a brief exercise to do at the bottom of the page.

Page 16

On this page is a list of items for which plans are available in the wood working shop. Have the students who are interested in the shop, choose one item which he or she would like to construct.

These pages are for students who are interested in using the sewing machines in the Skill Center. Patterns are available in the Skill Center for making a skirt, an apron, a halter, and a vest (all about size 7). White muslin is provided in the Skill Center. If a student wishes to use other material, he or she will need to furnish about a yard of material and matching thread. The Skill Center teacher will teach the students the operation of the machine.

Note to teacher: Pages 19-20b are used as the basis for presenting a mini course for Reading Development which is found in this manual.

The use of the calculators are described on these pages. It is important to work through these pages with all the students since most of the class will wish to operate the calculators. Several things to watch for. The symbol (+) is used as both an addition sign and as a set sign. Therefore in doing the subtraction problems, the plus sign will be used between the numerals. The same is true for division. For example:

The star(*) is used as the symbol for producing the answer in addition and subtraction. The (=) symbol is used for the final button to push in multiplying and the \div symbol is used for division. An example of each type of operation is given in the book.

PART V

TEACHER'S MANUAL - OCCUPATIONAL CLUSTERS

A Suggested Program for Teaching Reading Utilizing the Skill Center (Pages 19 through 20b of Skill Center Workbook) to promote an effective mini reading program.

This material was prepared by Mr. Robert McCarthy the Skill Center teacher, and is to be used by those students using the coloroid camera and the electric type-writer in the skill center in conjunction with the Newspaper and Office Workers Career Studies.

A. OBJECTIVES

Objective I, Developmental Reading.

The language-experience approach to reading derives its name from its origins-children's language and activities. These become the sources out of which grow materials and methods for teaching reading. The rationale underlying language-experience reading is found in several principles of learning.¹ Some are:

1. Learning takes place more readily if a child accepts as useful and important to him the activities in which he is expected to engage.
2. Learning is more efficient if it has satisfying emotional content - if feeling is supportive of thinking.
3. First hand experience makes a deeper impression on a person than vicarious experience.
4. Learning is facilitated and reinforced when more than one sensory approach is used.
5. A child learns best when he is relieved of too great pressure to compete and when he feels reasonably confident that he can accomplish what is expected of him.
6. A child learns best when his efforts are appreciated by his teacher and classmates.

Objective II(A) Comprehension and Interpretation.

In teaching word recognition using the language-experience approach some words will be within the students sight vocabulary, others will require the use of skills already learned. For example, context clues, phonic analysis, structural analysis, the use of a glossary (provided) or even a dictionary.

By the use of these, Sight Vocabulary, Word Attack Skills and Study Skills, the student will be able to comprehend and interpret written material with which he has had some learning experience.

Objective II(B), Reading for meaning is in a somewhat familiar Content Area

The children entering the Skill Center to participate in the newspaper career area, "hands-on" experience, have already completed the "Newspaper Career" workbook.

They are now familiar with, and encouraged enough to attempt a "hands-on" experience of those things with which they are summarily familiar. Some have required additional guidance from the classroom teacher while others were able to complete the reading and writing tasks by themselves.

1. Robert Karlin, "Teaching Elementary Reading, Principles and Strategies", Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, Inc. 1971 Pg. 109

B. SKILL CENTER ACTIVITIES WHICH ARE READING RELATED

1. Methodology for Activities which are Reading related in the Skill Center Program.

A. Comprehension and Interpretation

1. To be able to understand directions for operating a Polaroid Camera using graphic aids (pictures, boldface-type, and enumerated written directions).
2. To actually produce photographs, through the use of the Polaroid camera, of fellow students working at tasks in the Skill Center.
3. To be able to determine the different type styles used in the operation of an I.B.M. Selectric Typewriter.
4. To write and type a news article which will accompany the photographs; using and extending the information and ideas learned from the Guided Occupational Orientation Program Newspaper Careers Study and the Skill Center Work Book.

B. Specific Reading Skills

1. To be able to follow directions to a successful conclusion by the use of graphic aids, to draw conclusions, generalize and anticipate an outcome.
2. To be able to interview their classmates regarding the careers they have chosen to do in the Skill Center using the knowledge they have gained on interviewing and reporting in the newspaper careers study.
3. To be able to write, type and illustrate with photographs, a news article using knowledge gained from the Newspaper Careers Study and the Skill Center Work Book.

C. Study Skills

1. To use the glossary pages of the Skill Center Work Book to gain pronunciation and word meaning.

The activities suggested in this methodology take place in the classroom just prior to the students' visit to the Skill Center, and also during the day and a half stay in the Center. The Skill Center Teacher and the regular Classroom Teacher are both present for both the classroom and Skill Center Sessions.

During the classroom session the children are rapidly led through the entire Skill Center Work Book so they might familiarize themselves with the materials available and how they will tie-in with any of the particular "career areas" of "clusters" they selected to study in more depth in the Skill Center.

II. Materials

1. Polaroid Camera and film available in the Skill Center.
2. Student Skill Center Work Book pages 19 thru 20b.
3. Guided Occupational Orientation Career Study Booklets and accompanying materials (titles)
 1. Newspaper Careers
 2. Office Workers
4. I.B.M. Selectric Typewriter available in the Skill Center.
5. Duplicating material available in the school office and bulletin board space available in the school.

III. Developing Reading Vocabulary for Pages 19 thru 20b Skill Center Work Book (takes place in pre-Center Classroom)

A. Vocabulary to be mastered.

1. Polaroid
2. focus
3. cook
4. shutter
5. lever
6. Selectric typewriter
7. typing element
8. type style
9. courier italic
10. gothic
11. orator
12. courier
13. key punch
14. script

Write the first five words on the chalk board.

2. The students should have no trouble in pronouncing the 5 vocabulary words from their background in phonics and their knowledge of word attack skills.
 - a) Teacher may ask "How many one syllable words?" (cock)
 - b) "How many words of more than one syllable can you find?" "How many syllables are there in each word?"
 Polaroid(3) focus(2) shutter(2) lever(2)

"Now who can come to the board and divide them into syllables and place the accent mark?"

Po/ la/ roid fo/ cus shut/ ter lev/ er

- B. Teacher will take out the picture of the camera (Pg. 19) so the students may see it. By viewing the camera and by following the description of it in their Skill Center Workbook the students then look up the meaning of the five vocabulary words in the Work Book Glossary.

This can be done as a large group written assignment, but it is preferable to do it as a small group oral activity, with the teacher providing comments on the camera's operation as the students proceed with looking up the meanings.

IV. Motivated Silent Reading (takes place in pre-Center classroom session)

1. Teacher will now direct the students to read and do Skill Center Work Book page 19 to learn the operation of the camera.

V. Additional Pre-Center Classroom Session

1. The classroom teacher may now do a brief review of Newspaper Careers Study with the students, calling to mind the purpose and physical makeup of a news article and the job of a Reporter. (who, what, when, where, how, and why)
2. Skill Center Teacher then assigns page 20 of the Skill Center Work Book practice for going to the Center.

VI. Developing Reading Vocabulary for Pages 35 of Skill Van Work Book (takes place in pre-Center classroom session)

A. Vocabulary to be developed (see page 5 - Voc. 6 through 14)

6. Selectric typewriter 7. typing element 8. type sty.
9. courier italic 10. cursive
11. orator 12. 13. key punch 14. script

1. Write words 6 through 14 on the chalkboard.
2. The students should have no trouble in pronouncing these 9 vocabulary words from their background in phonics, knowledge of word attack skills, and past experience in the Guided Occupational Orientation Career Study Booklet on Office Workers.

Teacher asks who can pronounce the first word (Selectric typewriter).

Then he asks the students to look up the word in the Work Book Glossary. The teacher calls on one student to read the word meaning to the group.

The teacher asks: "who can pronounce the second and third words"? ("typing element" and "type style"). Then he shows the picture of the element asking the class to look up the meaning of both terms. He calls on students to read from the Glossary. Now he has the children look at and closely examine the 6 different typing styles in the book (Pg. 20a).

At this time the teacher pronounces and describes the 6 typestyles (courier - italic - gothic - orator - courier - keypunch and script.)

VII. Motivated Silent Reading takes place in the pre-Center Classroom Session

1. Teacher will now direct the students to read and do page 20a of the Skill Center Work Book, with the exception of the first paragraph which will be done in the Center.

VIII. Skill Center Activities

1. Upon entering the Skill Center the students who have chosen to do the Class Room Newspaper will take the photographs of their classmates at work. They may use the camera operations directions found on page 20 of the work book to help them initially. The Skill Center Teacher will be available to assist those who need help getting started. Students should do page 20 of Skill Center Work Book at this point for practice.
2. While in the Center students will interview their classmates regarding the career fields they have chosen and the actual work they are doing. They may use the interview sheet provided in the Newspaper Careers Study or prepare one of their own.
3. While in the Center students will do page 20a, the top paragraph, for typing practice on the Selectric Typewriter.
4. Students will write, edit, and proof read a galley proof for typing. Then they will retype their News Article.
5. They will illustrate their articles with the photographs they have taken in the Center.
6. The teacher will then have these duplicated in newspaper form for distribution to the whole school, (if such equipment is available in the school) or arrange for bulletin board space in school corridor or entrance for other student and parent viewing.

Conclusion

Although a bit removed from the actual basic reading, per se, a child may through the medium of this creative activity or more properly the experiential approach, evaluate what he sees, recording the facts in the capacity of his own literal vocabulary as he comprehends them, through the stimulation of seeing the successful project about to be completed, make the intellectual judgement that this could be improved upon just a little bit. This aspect of a reading skill would be approaching a degree of critical reading.

I am suggesting that going beyond those factors influencing comprehension (in addition to the basic learning skills leading up to this stage of development) the student, now familiar with word analysis, contextual and visual clues, and having created his own program, will succeed, which on the surface appears to be beyond his graded, tested, etc., capacity.

PART VI - Section I

INDIVIDUALIZED CAREER STUDIES

The basis of the Individualized Career Studies is self-direction by the students. This is accomplished by two means:

1. Instructional Level: Blue - below grade level
Yellow - Average
Pink - above grade level

All three levels contain learning activities to meet the same objectives as spelled out in the "Teacher's Guides to the Career Studies", in the latter part of this section. The learning activities are tailored to meet the needs of the learner at each of the three instructional levels. The "ability" at each of these levels was determined by the teacher-author of the study and a reading specialist. The teacher prescribes the correct level (by color) of each child in his/her class.

2. Choice of Interest Areas: This choice is made by the student. Each student should choose three areas in which he/she is interested. The number of ICS's done by the child is left to the discretion of the teacher. If possible, three is the recommended number.

ICS's: Twenty one careers are written up as studies, each one done in three ability levels. An overview of the content of each has been written by the author of each study and is included in this manual. Please read each thoroughly to help guide the students in their selection of career studies. The writing team has also included a section on ideas to assist you in implementing each study in your classroom. Prerequisite skills, needed by the students (letter writing, outlining, etc.) are noted in this section.

Remember! It will be necessary for you to bring the Career Study order for your class to the Career Center on the day of your first visit to Franklin School. Additional students may be chosen after the class visits the Center. It is your decision as to:

- a. how many studies each child will undertake (we suggest three)
- b. the level of difficulty each will do.

The following features are standard in each Individualized Career Study:

1. Each study is prepared in three "editions", or ability levels, which are color coded as described above. All three editions have the same objectives however, the blue level depends more heavily on visually rather than verbally presented material. The pink, or more challenging editions, call for more independent work on the part of the student.

2. General Format - each study has four sections:
 - a. Nature of Work - description of jobs in this family, duties, (this section usually is the largest).
 - b. Requirements - a study of the physical and educational requirements of the main jobs in this area.
 - c. Conditions - treats working conditions, location of job, etc.
 - d. Advantages - describes earnings and, in some cases, the future of these jobs. In many studies this section utilizes math.
3. Learning Activities and Enrichment - each of the above four sections contains both:
 - a. learning activities - fundamental to successful completion of the ICS. All students using the study should complete all learning activities.
 - b. enrichment - contains activities related to jobs but not essential instruction. Enrichment activities give the opportunity for the teacher to further individualized instruction by assigning those activities which will best suit each child's style of learning.

CAREER STUDY KITS

Your classroom will have its own complete Career Study library for approximately 3 weeks. All materials necessary for the Career Studies will be a foot-locker, with lock, and can easily be stored in your classroom. See page 11 for suggestions as to appointing student chairmen of inventory duty. Inventories should be done daily on the books, cassette tapes, cassette recorders, filmstrips, previewers, folders, electrical extensions, etc. All items must be checked out before the kit is reassigned to the next classroom.

4. Table of Contents page: The paragraph on this page is actually a rationale for the students. They should read this carefully and use it to help them determine their choice of areas to study.
5. Bibliography: Before starting and during the use of the career study, the student should become completely familiar with the use of the bibliography. Because he will be independently getting his own resource materials, he must be able to determine what they are.* The bibliographies list the following materials - all of which are in the Career Study Kit (in classroom),
 - a. Books - mainly hard cover books, listed in standard form.

*Stress to the children that these books are necessary for them to proceed with the activities assigned to them in the Career studies.

Material in Folders

- b. SRA Briefs - large folders found in the brown duo-tang folders. These contain stories related to each career, and each one has an accompanying cassette tape. This tape is to be listened to as the child reads the story. The back page contains pertinent facts used in learning activities.
- c. Career Briefs
Career Summaries
Job Guides
- d. D.O.T. Cards - Dictionary of Occupational Titles published by Sextant and Company. Kept in brown folders according to careers.
- e. D.O.T. Cartoons - leaflets published
- f. U.S. Government Occupational Outlook Bulletins
- g. Reprints

AUDIO VISUAL MATERIAL

- h. Cassette Tapes
- i. Filmstrips

All of these resource materials should be explained to the class before they begin their independent work. Allow them time to look them over and ask questions.

It is essential that a careful inventory be made of all materials when received and again before they are returned. Notify the Career Center of any missing materials immediately.

- 6. Progress Sheet: Located in ICS after the pre-test. It serves the two-fold purpose of
 - a. a guide to the ICS activities - the prescription sheet, and
 - b. a form of record keeping for the teacher.

NOTE: THIS YEAR THE PROGRESS SHEETS ARE NOT TO BE RETURNED TO THE CAREER CENTER.

Activities are listed according to the four sections of each ICS; within each section is a description of each activity and the page on which it is located. Teachers can use this to assign work to be done on a certain day or for a series of days. There is another column, marked "done", in which to indicate if work is satisfactory and/or a grade. Students use these sheets to locate and keep track of work assigned. Teachers also can use this as a guide for AV required, or out of room activities such as field trips or interviews.

- 7. Glossary: Mainly job-related words unique to each career. Students should be encouraged to study this carefully before beginning the career study and to refer to it constantly during the learning activities. Teacher may want to design additional activities using the glossary.

8. Interview Sheet: Attached to the back of each career study. The main purpose of the study is to gain information, and the interview technique is a valuable method. All students should make use of this method, practice it in the classroom and be prepared to use it on field trips or with resource people. Please refer to the interview lesson in the Orientation Study Appendix.

Field Trips

Career Ladders: These are graph like devices used to illustrate the job-family concept. Each study, whether it be about construction workers or school personnel, presents the family of workers involved, from unskilled up through the professional level. The career ladder relates these jobs in terms of education and income.

Field Trips: You will be advised by additional bulletins as to the standard field trip procedure. Again - the main purpose of the program is to get information about jobs, not products. The field trips should be planned and carried out to meet this objective. Children should be prepared by (a) knowing what information they are to seek, (b) know what method they are to use in acquiring this information, (c) having practiced these methods before the trip, and (d) knowing how they are to use this information when the trip is over. Further detail on these points:

- a. information children are to seek - falls into the same four objectives that are the framework of the Career Studies, namely: nature of work and duties of the jobs observed, educational and physical requirements for these jobs, conditions and location of these jobs, advantages and future of these jobs. The standard interview sheet contains questions relating to these objectives. Students should be encouraged to expand upon these standard questions.
- b. methods - interview (by whom? how many students at a time?); observation (checklists of facts needed should be prepared).
- c. practice - before a field trip in which interviews are to be done, small groups should be organized with specific areas to be covered assigned to each group. Each group should have a spokesman (asks questions), a recorder (writes answers), timekeeper (responsible for moving the group on).
- d. use of information - to share with the class, interview groups should be scheduled to report their findings orally, upon return from the trip. All those doing that particular career study should be aware that this is their opportunity to obtain any information they need.

CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT

There is no set formula for this. As with other phases of implementing this program, decisions are left to the individual teacher's judgement. How you set up and run the career studies will depend on you, your particular class, the amount of experience that both you and your students have had in in self-directed study. The teacher during this program should assume the role of a director of activities. This will be easier to accomplish when:

- a. teacher and students are thoroughly familiar with objectives, content and procedure for the career studies;
- b. teacher prescribes correct instructional level for independent student progress and further refines the prescription by careful choice of enrichment activities;
- c. student choice of career studies is based on familiarity with their content;
- d. students are ready to assume responsibility for their own progress. This can be determined only by the teacher. Students should be impressed with the fact that other than with purely subjective answers, they themselves will be responsible for checking their answers with the answer keys provided in the trunk, correcting their errors, and moving ahead upon satisfactory completion of each activity. It will be their responsibility to read instructions, locate their resource materials, complete their tasks, score them and then proceed all at their own rate;
- e. teacher should periodically (perhaps twice a week) review all Progress Sheets to see what AV materials are required for what students. Scheduling of recorders and previewers could well be very complicated. It is wise to have a list of other activities ready to take up the slack time a child will have while waiting for the use of AV equipment. Such activities could be from the Enrichment section, or general classroom activities such as spelling assignments, peer tutoring, and designing of new activities by the students themselves. The important thing is that these "busy work" suggestions be ready ahead of time;
- f. students should be assigned responsibility for daily inventories of all resource material. There should be a "chairperson" appointed for each of the following inventories:
 - 1) books
 - 2) folders
 - 3) tapes
 - 4) recorders, headsets and previewers
 - 5) filmstrips
 - 6) answer keys

These materials should be inventoried by each chairperson each day. Loss of any materials should be reported immediately to the Career Center, extension 358.

Inventory lists for checking resource trunk contents are provided in the lid of each trunk.

PART VII

TEACHER'S GUIDE FOR CAREER STUDIES

AIRPORT WORKERS

Teacher's Guide

The Airport Workers study is about the different jobs connected with the running of an airport.

A large group of employment opportunities is covered here. It is intended to be done by those students who feel that they may venture into this area of employment. Like the others it is divided into three reading levels. All levels are challenging.*

The study follows the same plan as the others which you have done. The first part is concerned with the Nature of Work. It contains many learning activities which expose the student to the numerous airport jobs and the duties involved in each.

The second phase of the study is conceived with the educational requirements needed in these jobs. The concentration here is placed on school and the subjects one should study.

Phase three informs the student of some of the different working conditions he may encounter, whether he will work indoors or outdoors and some of the safety precautions needed to be taken.

The fourth and final phase informs him of the advantages of the different jobs. It gives a salary chart and enables the student to find out the different salaries for the different jobs.

The student should obtain a sufficient amount of knowledge about airports when he completes this study to know whether or not to pursue his interests in the field.

Suggestions for Implementing and Teaching

The teacher should initially introduce Airport Workers in a general way. The children should look through the study and be aware of the length of the study, the different activities which are to be done, and the kind of resource material that is available to them.

It is essential that the teacher review or teach the class how to use the glossary. Many of the activities are dependent upon knowledge of the words listed in it.

The learning activities stress skill in the following areas:

1. Reading Comprehension
2. Outlining
3. True-False
4. Matching
5. Multiple Choice
6. Completion
7. Some mathematics in Phase 4

It is hoped that the student will apply these skills which he has learned in class to the completion of this Career Study.

*Not recommended for poor readers

PEOPLE WHO WORK WITH ANIMALS

Teacher's Guide

This study is one of the easier studies to complete. There is only one filmstrip for this study which deals with animal care. Introduced in this study are the veterinarian, pet store worker, zoo keeper, zoo director, dairy farmer, poultry farmer, and fur farmer.

Many of the resources, especially the pamphlet, "How to Live With a Neurotic Dog" are amusing and enjoyable. If the children are careful to follow the directions, they should have no difficulty with this study.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

Looking for details is one skill that is used frequently in this study. Children are required to read a book or pamphlet and then to list their answers to a question.

Most of the enrichment activities can be completed in class. If the children choose to make a bird feeder, it can be completed during the Skills Program. A visit to a pet store is an out of class activity that children can do on their own. Other activities include making an animal cage from a shoe-box, making a scrapbook of animals (this could be given to a primary class afterwards), and writing a story. The pink level is given a crossword puzzle to do.

All SRA material has been taped for the children to listen to as they read the stories. All material except for filmstrips and books are in the folder.

AUTO WORKERS

Teacher's Guide

This career study begins with the examination of the various jobs in the automotive industry. Throughout the study in all levels, the occupations of Gas Station Attendant, Auto Mechanic, Car Washer, Auto Body Repairman, and Automotive Brakeman are studied in more depth. The filmstrip Working With Cars is used as an introduction to the study.

The study also examines the nature of work by using such filmstrips as Changing a Flat Tire and using such books as Auto-mobiles-- How They Work.

The rest of the study includes the conditions, requirements, and advantages of the jobs in this study.

The Blue Career Study is quite easy and short with the directions being fairly explicit about where material may be found.

The Yellow Career Study introduces the student to the concepts of vocational or technical schools and on-the-job training. This study also includes some vocabulary and alphabetizing not found in the blue study.

The Pink Career Study has even more language development such as unscrambling words and reading facts from a newspaper and putting them in outline form.

For all three levels this study should be relatively simple and be accomplished without too much difficulty.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

The natural interest most boys express in cars and mechanical skills can be capitalized on through use of car ads in magazines, collections of toy cars, or drawings that the children can make.

As in all the career studies, the entire study should be looked over thoroughly, including the material available. Emphasis should be placed on familiarizing the pupil with the glossary, and the careful reading of the assigned material.

A visit to a garage or vocational school mechanics department would be most helpful in the development of this study. The Career Center will try to arrange this type of field trips.

The inspection sticker is mentioned in this study, so the teacher might be prepared to answer any questions concerning car inspection or let the children examine a car inspection sticker.

Since many of these studies require children to find facts from resource materials independently, the teacher should spend time developing techniques for this type of learning.

PEOPLE WHO WORK IN CONSERVATION

Teacher's Guide

This study introduces the term "Conservation" to all three levels, including the jobs of the forester, soil conservationists, and wildlife conservationists. The True Book of Conservation would help the teacher in establishing a background for this study.

Included in the first section are filmstrips about the paper industry and the many jobs offered by it. (Some of the words may be difficult but most are defined in the glossary.) Also included is a list of job titles and descriptions which have to be filled in.

The last part deals with salary and other advantages requiring the children to complete graphs.

Many enrichment activities are suggested that can be begun in class and completed during the Skills Program.

The study may tend to be difficult because of the vocabulary in the filmstrips. Serious, interested students should find this study fun. If the student is more interested in animals, he should be referred to the animal study.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

The teacher should stress the use of the glossary before children begin. Many terms that are difficult in filmstrips must be defined.

The following items must be understood before the students begin the study:

1. What is a planter box?
2. What is a green house?
3. What are relief maps?
4. What is a collage?

These crafts are part of the enrichment activities.

Children should know that all information about requirements is in the folder. They will have to read and listen to tapes from the S.R.A. briefs, dependent on their need for information.

Bar graphs are used to compare salaries, therefore, the making and interpreting of a bar graph should be taught.

COSMETOLOGY

Teacher's Guide

This study presents a make-believe walk through a beauty salon and introduces the student to the many career opportunities to both men and women in this field. This Career being one with great appeal to students, it is important that they realize the wealth of opportunities and the flexibility of hours, part-time employment, etc., that is in the cosmetology business.

Many enrichment activities are suggested that will be particularly enjoyable to the students. Please remember that these enrichment activities are optional and at the discretion of the teacher.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

Mr. Charles Money, in the Beauty School at Central Tech, is anxious to work with this program. By calling him, it is possible for you to have his senior Cosmetology students visit your classroom and put on demonstrations, or to arrange visits by your students to his beauty school at Central to have their hair done.

FASHION AND CLOTHING CAREERS

Teacher's Guide

The Fashion Career Study begins with an introduction to the many jobs that are to be found in the fashion world, and continues with vocabulary unique

A filmstrip "Manufacturing Clothing" and several books give an overview of how a garment is made from start to finish. In the pink and yellow study, the pupil learns a bit of the history of the development and use of clothes from ancient to modern times.

Next there is a series of activities designed to identify job title with job descriptions and each of the 3 levels examine the job of a dressmaker, model, and designer in some depth.

The rest of the study is devoted to the conditions, requirements, and advantages of various jobs. Included in the last section are table (blue) and graph reading (yellow and pink) with related math exercises.

The blue study is fairly easy and should present no problem to a slower student. The yellow study requires quite a bit of reading and finding facts, but the study is quite precise about the location of the answers. The pink study is relatively difficult and would require a student with real interest and diligence.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

Children, especially girls, are interested in clothes and the teacher can introduce this study by capitalizing on that interest by bringing in teen fashion magazine, swatches of fabric, etc.

The student who does this study should be encouraged to acquaint themselves with the entire study, the glossary, and all the material available before beginning.

This study especially lends itself to working in groups, but it should be stressed that books and pamphlets required in the activities be read thoroughly, carefully noting titles and page numbers.

Since modeling is a very limited career field, good grooming is stressed in the blue and yellow study rather than job description. Here the teacher may use the 6th grade health book or other material to present ideas on grooming.

The enrichment activities call for a field trip and interview with a department store worker in the clothing section, but if this is not possible, the teacher might invite an attractive girl to the class to share her ideas on clothes and grooming.

One of the enrichment activities call for the planning and giving of a fashion show. This might be included in the skill phase of the program, when the class does the restaurant project, under the heading "Fashions at Luncheon."

FIREFIGHTERS

Teacher's Guide

Notice the word, "Firefighters," because of women's lib they are no longer called "Firemen." However, many of the books were printed before this movement became so active, therefore, the term "firemen" is used in titles and in book content. Nevertheless, the new term is preferred.

This study covers service careers under government control with the advantages of job security, paid vacations, hospitalization, and requiring less than college schooling.

Through the use of SRA Briefs, Tapes, Career Briefs and Summaries. The many job titles listed are described as to Nature of Work, Requirements, Conditions and Advantages.

Problem solving bar graphs, career ladders, letter writing and dictionary work are activities included in this study.

Terminology found only in firefighter careers is brought to the attention of the student.

The levels of this career study are written in a concise manner easily followed if directions are carefully read.

This study would be considered average - not too difficult nor too easy.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

1. Letter writing is an activity that should be reviewed before the student begins work on this study.
2. He will meet the term "Career Ladder" which may need explaining.
3. Bar graphs are included in the yellow and pink level of this study. Children may not have worked with graphs at the time this study is implemented in your school. Refer to pages 6 - 8 in Section A of this manual for a sample lesson on bar graphs.
4. In the pink and yellow career study the children have to make a time line. This activity may be new to them and may need some teacher's guidance.
5. The use of the glossary needs to be stressed.
6. As an enrichment one of the children may wish to invite the firefighters who inspect the school to visit and speak to the class. These men are anxious to have the opportunity to talk with the children.
7. In the pink level, page 2, the following job titles could be listed:

1. Hooksie
2. Smoke eater
3. Watchman
4. Patrollo

5. Inspector
6. Volunteer Firemen
7. Smoke Jumper

HEALTH CAREERS

Teacher's Guide

IMPORTANT Many of the same resource materials are used in both the Hospital and Health Careers studies. Children should be cautioned to check both folders for these materials and to see that each is returned to its proper place.

Health Careers is such a tremendous field it was necessary to limit this study to those positions considered most common as nurse, pharmacist, aides, public health nurse, etc.

Through filmstrips; books, pamphlets and cards, the duties, educational and personal requirements, working conditions and advantages of careers in the Health field are explored.

This is not a difficult study for each level but it is a very thorough one and is longer than some of the other career studies. However, it covers such important services through use of many tapes and interesting activities. The length of the study should not be a deterrent to choosing it.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

1. All SRA Briefs are taped for the non-readers. These may be used by all the students.
2. Use of the bibliography is most important as often the children are referred to the bibliography for titles of books, pamphlets, etc. to be used in an activity. A lesson on this may be needed.
3. Emphasize the importance of reading directions so the student gives the exact information asked for as, one filmstrip, four duties, etc. Often books are to be completely read. These will be easy reading.
4. Outlining is an activity in this study. The format of an outline may have to be reviewed before children doing the pink or yellow level can complete the study.
5. Writing letters may have to be reviewed before this study is begun.
6. Math problems involving adding, subtracting and multiplying are included in this study.
7. A career ladder appears in the pink level. The term career ladder may need defining.
8. Skimming is mentioned as an activity in the pink study. This work may also need defining.

CAREERS IN HEAVY CONSTRUCTION

Teacher's Guide

This study acquaints the pupil to the many people who work together to build bridges, dams, and large buildings. The job opportunities in this field of heavy construction are numerous.

In the nature of work, the pupil is introduced to the three different groups of workers found in this field. Under professionals he studies briefly the surveyor, architect, civil engineer, and draftsman. Carpenters, structural iron-workers, bricklayers and machine operators are met under the section involving skilled and semi-skilled workers. Unskilled workers make up the last group. These are the construction laborers.

In the next part, the pupil looks for the qualifications of various jobs in the field. Special stress is given to the training and the type of personality each worker must have.

The last two sections cover the conditions and advantages of a job in this field. Graphs, charts and a pupils knowledge and research are used.

This study presents a good overview of the many jobs available in the field of heavy construction for each level readers. Naturally, the blue level is shorter and requires less than the yellow or pink levels.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

This study could be introduced in many different ways. Boys and girls, on their way to school often pass many building sites. A discussion about the number of men and the kinds of machinery they see on these sites, could introduce the unit. The book Come to Work with Us in House Construction contains poems about the many available jobs in the construction field. A game of "Who Am I" using these poems would be an enjoyable way to introduce the unit. The filmstrip Heavy Equipment Operators could also be used.

The glossary contains many words they will meet in the study. Be sure to have the pupils look it over carefully. Have them also look over the booklet to see the many activities and materials they will use.

In this booklet, there are many activities. The SRA Briefs are used as sources for requirements, conditions and advantages. There are also two tapes with filmstrips to use.

The pupils are introduced to the symbols an architect uses. They are then asked to make their own blueprints of specific places. The highest group is also asked to use Encyclopedias for information.

HOSPITAL CAREERS

Teacher's Guide

Hospital Careers opposed to Health Careers stresses only those positions connected with hospitals. Students believe these to be nurses and doctors, not realizing the many employees it takes to run this tremendous enterprise.

With this in mind, activities have been included from candy stripper to doctor to show students that one can start in this field with little education then through desire and continued education can climb up the career ladder as far as they wish to go.

New filmstrips, books and pamphlets describe the duties, educational and personal requirements, working conditions and advantages of careers in a hospital community.

The study introduces the concept of the "hospital team", (workers who deal directly with the patient) as well as the behind the scenes workers who are necessary to both the patient and the team.

The study is not a difficult one but presents job titles which will be new to most students.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

IMPORTANT - Many of the same resource materials for this study are used in both the hospital and health careers studies. Children should be cautioned to check both brown folders for these materials and to see that each is returned to its proper place.

Have the children look through the study before starting so they are aware of the content and the activities required. It is important that they become familiar with the glossary and the materials in the brown folder.

Children should be prepared for independent use of the resource material listed in the bibliography.

The importance of "reading and following directions" cannot be stressed too much. It will be an additional help to the children if they are taught to

- 1- first survey the questions they are to find the answers to.
- 2- read to find the answers. Most of the exercises call for specific information - one title, three duties, etc.

Enrichment activities include drawing pictures, making sample booklets, making paper nurse caps, etc.

One of the activities is to interview the school nurse or health clerk. She is a valuable resource person who can contribute a great deal to the depth of the study. She should be encouraged to work with the students, especially in the section "Requirements

To acquaint the children with the hospital facilities in the Syracuse area, the use of the yellow pages in the phone book is required.

Most children have had some exposure to hospital experience and could relate it orally. This would enrich the study for himself and the entire class.

The yellow and pink levels are given the opportunity to construct their own crossword puzzle and will need graph paper to do so.

Charts are used in the fourth section, "Advantages." The materials needed for these charts are specified in each case.

Skimming is used as a learning activity throughout the study. It is a technique that needs to be encouraged as the children search through the material for their answers.

CAREERS IN HOUSE CONSTRUCTION

Teachers Guide

This is a very thorough Career Study identifying the many workers involved in house building. The workers are divided into the following categories:

- a. Professional - architects, surveyors, draftsmen
- b. Skilled - electricians, plumbers, roofers, etc.
- c. Semi-skilled and unskilled laborers discussed briefly

There is an abundance of material written into the study such as filmstrips and books which provide the basis for many activities

The entire study, though lengthy, is very precise and explicit and should present no difficulty to any type of student.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

The pupils doing this study should first of all look over the abundance of material available in the kit. They should carefully examine the booklet itself and the glossary. There are many illustrations that encourage discussion on the duties and materials used in the career field.

A trip to a building site for a house would be an excellent activity. Pupils could interview the workers; perhaps a parent of one of the students who works in this field could serve as a resource person.

The glossary should be stressed as a useful tool provided to help understand and do the study.

NEWSPAPER CAREERS

Teachers Guide

The career study "Newspaper Careers" provides the student with a good understanding of the people and work involved in the putting together of a newspaper.

The Career Studies are divided into three levels with each level containing four sections.

The blue career study is relatively easy. The nature of work section, as in all levels, introduces vocabulary related to the newspaper industry. Contained in this section are job descriptions and a fairly good audio-visual presentation on just how a paper is put together.

The requirement is basically the same for all levels although higher levels of reading and writing skills are needed for the amount of training and education for a particular job is covered.

The conditions section concerns itself with what it is like to work at a particular job at a newspaper. Whether it is indoors or outdoors, working alone or with others, etc. Similar materials are covered at all levels, but the depth is much greater in the yellow and pink studies.

The last section deals with advantages of working in the newspaper industry. Covered in this section are such things as salary, unions, fringe benefits and what the future holds for a particular position. Basic material covered is again similar, but the enrichment materials in the yellow, and particularly the pink study, require a high level of reading and writing skill.

NOTE: One enrichment activity directs the student to imitate a reporter by taking notes and writing them up in story form. This may require extra guidance from the teacher.

OFFICE WORKERS

Teacher's Guide

The Office Workers Career Study provides the student with a basic background of information concerning what it would be like to work in an office.

All three levels (blue, yellow, pink) are not overly difficult or lengthy. Each, however, introduces to the student what is needed to be developed now in reference to education and personal traits and attitudes if he or she wishes to enter a position in an office.

The only real difference between the three levels involves the fact that the yellow and, particularly, the pink studies require higher levels of reading and writing skills than the blue study. The yellow and pink studies also touch upon a larger number of jobs found within an office.

The teacher, as in all the career studies, should discuss with the student the fact that attendance, personal traits, and attitudes, and academic progress at the present time will most likely have a direct bearing on the gaining of employment in the future.

POLICE CAREERS

Teacher's Guide

This is a good study for those pupils who are interested in becoming policemen. In it, the pupil becomes familiar with the various kinds of policemen. They also see the different tools needed by policemen and have an opportunity to meet the language in this field are easily understood. The advantages are shown on a career ladder.

The blue level of this study is very easy to follow. The book "About Policemen" is written in such a way that the information needed can easily be obtained. The yellow and pink are equally as interesting and contain activities that will challenge the reader of each level.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

This study can easily be introduced through a discussion about Policemen. In the yellow and blue studies there is a letter to an editor that could be read to the class. There are two filmstrips that could be shown on the training and duties of a policeman. Articles found in the daily newspaper on crimes and other events could also be used.

A trip to the Public Safety Building would be an excellent activity to include. Arrangements can be made through Captain Donahue's office at the Public Safety Building. If you would prefer, a policeman to visit your class, please use the letter in the field trip packet. Pupils could interview the school crossing guards.

In both the yellow and pink studies there are activities on the history of policemen and information about policemen around the world. Pictures and bulletin boards can be made from this information.

Essential to the introduction of this study, is a careful examination of the study itself and the glossary. There are many illustrations that encourage discussion on the duties and materials used in this career field.

The pupils should read the prescribed book thoroughly. Besides these, the book "West Side Cop" is recommended for the pink level.

This study involves the protection and safety of each of us in our daily lives. The idea of obedience to laws both inside the classroom and outside should be stressed.

POSTAL CAREERS

Teacher's Guide

This study is about careers connected with the post office. The greatest emphasis is placed on careers requiring less than or a high school education to stress that one can attain a job future without having a college education. Because of this, most activities center around mail handlers, window clerks, distribution clerks, mail carriers, and parcel post delivery men. The service to society is also included in this study.

A filmstrip entitled "The Post Office and Its Workers" introduces the three levels of this career study to arouse interest in the many postal positions available.

Books play a very important part in the activities of this study. Hopefully, children will read these books when time permits.

Math questions, writing a complete sentence, alphabetical order, filling in blanks, working with a career ladder are some of the activities included in this career study.

Each level includes a glossary of words used in this study. The postal study is not too difficult for all levels. Directions are easily understood.

A visit from the mail carrier who delivers the school mail is an excellent method of stimulating interest in this study. He will give the teacher the number to call to arrange this visit.

If a field trip to the Post Office is arranged, have each child take with him a letter and envelope addressed to himself. Then he can watch each process a letter goes through before it is delivered to his home.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

Because use of books is one of the main activities in this study emphasis on following directions, carefully reading titles and page numbers should be brought to the pupil's attention.

Whenever SRA Briefs are used in an activity a tape of the SRA Brief has been made to be used by the non-readers. Children working on all three levels may use and enjoy these tapes.

Each level has a glossary included pertaining to words used in the particular Career Study. A discussion of the purpose of a glossary will help the child see its value and avoid the teacher's necessity to explain the meaning of a word.

As more enrichment children could illustrate a trip to the post office, a mail carrier in uniform with bag, cap, etc., a booklet or whatever prove most interesting to them.

RESTAURANT CAREERS

Teacher's Guide

This study explores many jobs in the restaurant field, but most of the activities center around the duties of a waitress.

The study begins with a filmstrip introducing various occupations in this field. From here the pupil examines the five categories of people who deal in food services in general.

Using the many materials available, the pupil will learn through different activities some of the jobs and the work involved in each. Included in the first section of the study will be found an activity sheet entitled Lou's Quick Lunch. The purpose of this exercise is to provide children with learning to read menus, figuring the cost of several items, etc.

The last part of the study deals with the educational and personal requirements, the many types and kinds of restaurants, and the advantages and pay scale of the various jobs.

The study should not provide too much difficulty for any of the three levels as there is much material available. The blue level is very concrete and directs the pupil to the specific material. Both yellow and pink require more initiative in finding and listing items, the pink naturally demanding more than the yellow.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

To introduce this study, the teacher could draw on the children's experience in eating in restaurants. The filmstrip "Job Opportunities in a Restaurant" gives an introduction to the various careers to be found.

Have the children look through the study before starting, so that they are aware of the content and the activities required. Be sure they particularly read over the glossary and look over the brown folder containing the material.

The enrichment activities suggest interviews with a restaurant worker. This could be handled by having one student interview a worker and sharing his findings with the class or taking groups of children to lunch, having each pay his own way. Perhaps a waitress can come to your classroom to be interviewed.

To acquaint the children with the many types of restaurants, the phone book and a newspaper are required. Perhaps the children could relate orally their experiences in different types of restaurants.

The enrichment activities include planning a meal, serving it, etc. This activity lends itself very well to the Skills Phase program whereby the pupils doing this study could actually execute the planning and carrying out of the Restaurant when this part of the program is in your school.

SCHOOL WORKERS

Teacher's Guide

The Career Study in School Workers was designed to show the many job opportunities there are in the education community, such as maintenance men, teacher aides, teachers, librarians, athletic coaches, health workers and administrators.

The study begins with a filmstrip introducing these occupations. From here the pupil investigates these fields in greater depth. A field trip to the Board of Education is included as an enrichment activity. Educational requirements for workers unskilled up through the professional levels are dealt with in the section "Conditions of Work." The number of fields the child studies is determined by the color of the study he is doing. Here the format of the study varies from the others in that the learning activities do not relate only to conditions of work, but rather encompass all facts about that career. This is necessary due to the enormous amount of material that is related to jobs in the school workers field. You will find also, the learning and enrichment activities for each field are located together for the sake of continuity.

Although the study is lengthy, the child is given a choice of activities to follow within it...as indicated on the Progress Sheets

No learning activities are given in the section "Advantages", as these had been covered in the previous section.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

The filmstrip provides a good introduction. Children are familiar with the positions described and are usually quite interested in finding more information as directed.

The use of charts to obtain information is included in all levels. Students may need extra help in understanding the job titles and terms used in these.

Resource people within your buildings should be utilized as much as possible. It is an excellent opportunity for students to conduct interviews with these people.

Refer to Page 7 of the manual for instructions on planning field trips. Also, refer to the field trip packet.

IMPORTANT: DO NOT undertake field trip to the Central Office until you have read and carried out the preparatory steps as outlined on the special instructions in the field trip packet.

STORE WORKERS

Teacher's Guide

The career study on Store Workers was written with a very definite purpose in mind - to show the many job opportunities there are in the retail field. Emphasis was put on the many positions requiring a "high school or less" education. However, with a high school diploma one can attain a certain high standard in the employment field.

By the use of filmstrips, tapes, briefs, etc., the student discovers positions such as stock clerk, interior designer, display worker, comparison shopper and many more. Some of these job titles are familiar to the pupil while others are very unusual and should arouse a degree of curiosity as he works through the Career Study.

Cooperation, enjoyment of working with others, a desire to please others are all brought out in this Career Study. It is not too difficult, so it should not require a long time to complete.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

1. SRA Briefs have been taped for non-readers. These should be made available to all the students working on this study.
2. The reading of graphs should be reviewed if this activity has not been covered in Math. (Bar graphs specifically.)
3. A discussion of what a career ladder is, what is found on it, why it's a good way to show information may help the students in completing such an activity.
4. This study affords an excellent opportunity to reach out into the neighboring community for store owners, clerks people from home who work for stores, to come in and speak to the students.
5. Letter writing, especially thank you letters, will be used as an activity and may need reviewing.
6. A walk through a shopping center or neighborhood to become aware of the different kinds of stores should prove both interesting and informative.
7. This would lead to interesting activities such as making a model neighborhood from construction paper, drawing scale models of stores (pink) or just paintings or drawings of what was seen on this walk.

NOTE: In this one instance, a combination of the yellow and pink levels would provide a comprehensive picture of jobs in the retail field. The activities that overlap are few and most students would benefit from the use of both levels.

TELEPHONE WORKERS

Teacher's Guide

The yellow career study is average in length and includes enough vocabulary work to enable most students to learn about the various jobs in the telephone industry. There are activities in which the student is gradually led to learn what different job titles describe

The requirement section discusses the education and training necessary for a particular job. The conditions section tells what the job will be like ----- working alone or with others, outdoors or indoors, etc. The advantages section deals with salary, fringe benefits, and the future of a particular job.

The pink career study is somewhat difficult and long but provides for a really in-depth study of almost every job at the telephone company. A high level of reading and writing skill is required for this study. This career study also has work within it which will be presented to the class when the student has concluded the study.

The job family presented here is quite limited as far as the real scope of jobs in this type of career area; however, the study is designed mainly to show the variety of work available in this field.....inside work, outside work, switchboard, mechanical, and executive.

The blue version of Telephone Workers is easy for students to complete.

CAREERS IN TRANSPORTATION

Teacher's Guide

This is a study of some of the jobs available in the world of transportation. Because this is such a vast field to cover, only a few jobs are stressed in depth.

The first section of this study begins with a brief explanation and history of transportation. It is hoped that the pupil will understand that man has always been concerned with the moving of people and things from one place to another.

In the next section, jobs in the field of transportation are broken down into four major areas. These areas are:

1. Drivers, i.e. busdriver, taxi driver, ship's captain
2. Loaders, i.e. fork lift operator, winch operator
3. Planners, i.e. supervisor, dispatcher, salesman, traffic manager
4. Helper of people, i.e. stewardess, chef, ticket salesman

Under requirements, the pupil is asked to study one, two, or three jobs, according to his level. The jobs of busdriver, power truck driver, and shipping and receiving clerk are those he can choose from.

In the remaining parts, explanations for the jobs of routeman, taxi driver, and long-distance truck drivers are given. Charts and a graph show the salary scale of jobs in the world of transportation.

This is a good study for those interested in being a busdriver or truck driver. The blue level is a little difficult, but those choosing it will be able to answer the questions if they follow the directions closely. These directions guide them, almost word for word, to the correct answers. The wide range of activities and resources should make it interesting for the yellow and pink levels.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

There are several ways a teacher can introduce this study to those interested. The filmstrip "Transportation and Transportation Workers" could be used. The pupils interested could take a walk around the neighborhood, especially if it is near a major street, and make a list of the modes of transportation they see on their walk. A story could be written about "How French Perfume Came to Our House" or "How Danish Bacon Got to Our Table."

Before a pupil begins this study he should look over the booklet carefully. He should take time to read the glossary and become familiar with the new words he will meet. He should also look through the booklet to see the various jobs studied in depth.

The interview tapes of a taxi driver and a shipping and receiving clerk should be listened to carefully. There are answers to be given after each tape according to level.

Pupils should be encouraged to interview a bus driver or a truck driver. Perhaps arrangements could be made for the school bus driver to come in and talk to the class. A round trip on a city bus would provide a good opportunity for them to see the duties of a bus driver. A trip to a local trucking terminal would also be good to see the way trucks are loaded.

Pupils are encouraged to use newspapers to find out about available jobs in the field of transportation.

TV AND RADIO CAREERS

Teacher's Guide

This job family includes many communication workers including those in the business office, those who sell program time (to advertisers) the equipment technicians, the newscasters and announcers, and the production workers.

Activities include finding information in some very interesting and clever types of resource materials. The tasks are of the type that will sustain the student's interest and give him a real taste of what Radio and TV work involves.

The three colors of this study vary only in the degree of challenge presented by the activities.

Suggestions for Teaching and Implementing

A field trip to a radio-tv station would be an excellent way of capitalizing on all the learning activities in this study. Also, there is a special program in the Skill Trainer Van that gives students an opportunity to prepare a radio show.

LABOR

Labor: The word "labor" has several meanings. In the World of Work, "labor" means working people. Almost everyone in the world works to earn money to support himself and his family. See if you can fill in the blank:

Soldiers and sailors make up the Armed Forces; "workers" in our society are called the L _____ force.

In this study you will learn that people are paid by the hour, the week, or the year. In most cases, labor groups are made up of people paid by the hour or week. Those paid by the year are usually in another group called "professional" or "management". Ask your teacher if your class can discuss these terms: labor....management.

How are they different?

Should one be stronger? Why?

Are there more in one group or the other?

What group would you want to be in? Why?

This picture may look like a forest of trees to you but it is really a picture of the LABOR FIELD. The "trees" show you the types of jobs in that field.

It is a picture that tells you in which field most jobs are going to be, and how fast those fields are growing. Let's study each of them.

TECHNICAL

People in the technical field run and repair machines.

This field is growing the fastest of all. As a matter of fact, it is thought the field will double in fifteen years.

Special training is needed. Where? In trade schools, vocational schools, on-the-job training, or apprenticeship programs.

NOW DO THE FOLLOWING:

1. People in the technical field _____ and _____ machines.
2. The _____ field is the fastest growing in the labor field.
3. _____ training is needed for jobs in the technical field.

CLERICAL

People in this field keep records, type letters, file papers, and use office machines.

NOW DO THE FOLLOWING:

1. If you look at our picture of the labor field, you will see that this is the (first, second) _____ fastest growing group.

2. Clerical workers keep _____, _____ letters, _____ papers and use office _____.

SKILLED

People in this field are highly trained in a special skill. For example - carpenters, plumbers, mechanics, and electricians. The job outlook for these workers is good. There is a chance of advancement in this field as well as good money and security.

NOW DO THE FOLLOWING

1. Skilled workers are _____ trained in a _____ skill.
2. Three good things about being a skilled worker are:
 - a. chance of _____,
 - b. good _____, and
 - c. _____.

SEMI-SKILLED

This kind of worker has received less training than a skilled worker. His work is not as difficult and he does not have as much responsibility. Accordingly, a semi-skilled worker receives less pay than a skilled worker.

Machines have taken the jobs of many semi-skilled workers. That is why this labor "field" is not as large as the others.

NOW DO THE FOLLOWING:

Put T for true or F for false in front of these statements.

- ___ 1. Semi-skilled workers receive less training than skilled workers.
- ___ 2. Semi-skilled workers receive more pay than skilled workers.
- ___ 3. This labor field is larger than that of skilled workers.
- ___ 4. Machines have replaced many semi-skilled workers.

LABORERS

The laborers group of workers is becoming smaller every year. These jobs require no training or skill and are constantly being replaced by machines. Examples of this type of work are: ditch-diggers, stock clerks, lifting and carrying packages.

NOW DO THE FOLLOWING:

1. The laborers group of workers is the (smallest, largest) _____ in the field.
2. These jobs require _____ training or skill.
3. Many of these jobs have been replaced by _____.

OTHER TYPES OF JOBSManagement

This is the group of people who manage or run any business. Some of their duties are to organize the work, buy the raw materials, find the workers, and sell the products. These jobs usually require years of education and experience.

As business grows and expands, more management help is needed, so this job field stays steady in its size. Many businesses and industries provide their own management training.

NOW DO THE FOLLOWING:

Put T for true or F for false in front of the following statements.

- ___ 1. Management jobs usually require education and experience.
- ___ 2. Management is the word used to describe people who run a business or industry.
- ___ 3. Management finds the workers.
- ___ 4. The management field is growing smaller.
- ___ 5. Management training is only available in a trade school.

Sales

This group of workers is slowly but steadily growing. More and more money is being used to train people to sell products. Many businesses have their own training programs in order to produce "top-notch" salesmen. This field requires less education than management also, there are many jobs available for women.

NOW DO THE FOLLOWING:

1. The sales field is steadily _____.
2. Many firms have their own sales _____ programs.
3. The sales field requires _____ education than management.
4. There are many jobs available for _____ in this field.

LABOR LAWS

There are many ways to help protect the American worker. One of these ways is by laws that make sure no one makes people work for unfair pay, or laws that protect children from being employed unfairly. For example, the New York State Labor Law requires everyone between the ages of 14 and 17 to have a work permit or "working papers."

Use this paragraph to help you - put T for true and F for false before each statement.

- ___ 1. The labor force is made up of sailors.
- ___ 2. Labor laws are to protect the worker.
- ___ 3. Working permits are needed by everyone.
- ___ 4. Labor laws protect a worker from illness.
- ___ 5. Labor laws protect a worker from being paid unfairly.

JOB APPLICATION

The first step in getting a job is to apply, or ask for it. When you ask for a job, you do it in writing. This is called a job application. Unscramble the following sentence:

in application asking An writing is job for a.

On an application, the employer asks for information he needs to know about you. This helps him decide if you are the right person for the job.

On the next page is a sample job application. If you were applying for a job, how would you fill it out?

INTERVIEWS AND INTERVIEWS

The purpose of an interview is to find out information. There are two kinds of interviews for us to think about:

1. You ask the questions to get information about a job or:
2. Someone asks you questions about yourself when they are thinking about hiring you.

(Type #1 Interview)

"Getting the Facts"

You will be using type #1 interview. Here are some hints to help you.

- a. Study the interview sheet on the next page.
- b. Plan how you will introduce yourself to the person you will interview, how you will conduct the interview, how long you will spend asking questions, and how you will end the interview.
- c. Use the interview sheet on the next page to practice on adult friends and classmates.

You will have interview sheets attached to each Career Study to "get the facts" about that job.

How To Sell Your Product

RULES FOR TYPE 2 INTERVIEW

1. Wrap the package Attractively -

"Neat but not Gaudy," is the word. Girls. Leave the eye makeup, highly teased hair, and short short skirts at home. Fellows, the levis, sweatshirts and sneakers are NIX on interviews. Look NEAT AND CLEAN.

2. Be sure the package arrives on time -

9:05 is too late for a 9:00 appointment, BESIDES, they've heard all the excuses, and a few you haven't dreamed up yet.

3. A care package gets more attention - than a "Don't Care"

Be interested in your employer's business and how you can fit into his organization - or wind up in the dead letter office.

4. Fragile - Handle with Care -

A courteous, respectful attitude and "thank you," regardless of the outcome of the interview - always impresses people.

5. Don't Advertise Competing Products -

A job interview is no place for the "BUDDY SYSTEM." Let you friends do their own job-hunting.

6. False Advertising Doesn't Pay -

Fill out the application truthfully - don't claim experience or skills you don't have. It always backfires and doesn't help.

7. Fill Out Application Neatly -

Print if necessary, or write legibly.

D. INTERVIEWS

Type Number 2 Interview

2 SECOND CHANCE

Some interviews fail. The person does not get the job he wants because he has not done all the right things during the interview.

Sometimes a second interview will get a person the job he wants. Let's pretend the shipping department of Ace Industries needs a clerk. A boy named Andrew Brown had been interviewed for the job once, but failed to get it because he:

1. ___ was late for the appointment
2. ___ wore sloppy clothes
3. ___ did not have his hair combed
4. ___ was not friendly and polite

Read about Andy's second chance. He really wants to do better and is glad to have another chance. The appointment is set for 2:30 P.M.

First read the rules for a good interview, then fill in the blanks in such a way that Andy will get the job.

RULES FOR A GOOD INTERVIEW

2. Know how to answer questions
3. Be neat in dress and appearance

Many times when you go the store or supermarket, you will see marked on a can 4/89. This means that you can get 4 cans of that item for 89¢. Supposing, however, you only want 3 cans of that item. You could divide 4 into 89 to see how much one can cost and multiply by that number.

You can see that if a store clerk had to stop and do all that math each time, it would slow down the store operation a great deal. So each cash register has either a "multiple" or "fractional price chart" on it.

Below are two such price charts. The numbers across the top of the chart, the 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 represent the number of items. The numbers on the side such as 3/10, 3/17 and so on mean that 3 cans cost 17¢. etc. To find the price of one item, look under the 1, to find the cost of two items, look under the 2 and so on. Practice using either chart or both charts to find out the cost of the following:

3 packs of cookies at 4/99 _____

1 candy bar at 3/29 _____

2 cans of soup at 5/43 _____

From the list above select what you want to make. The Skill Teacher will give you the plans when you go to the Van.

What did you choose? _____

Review the different tools and their uses. These tools are all in the Van.

We have 2 of them
... and you can operate them

Before running a sewing machine you must have something to sew.

An APRON is easy and fun for beginners.

A. Fold an old newspaper and cut out 1/2 of an apron.

When you open the folded newspaper you will have a front piece apron pattern

- B. A waist band for your apron could be 127 cm. long and 7.6 cm. wide.

- C. All aprons should have a pocket. Cut out a pocket pattern from a newspaper too.

- D. Either bring some material from home and cut out your newspaper pattern on that material

OR

Bring your pattern to the Skill Center and get some material there. Then cut out your pattern.

- E. Use some pins and pin all of the parts together so they can be sewed on the sewing machine in the Skill Trainer.

The skill teacher will help you learn how to sew on the sewing machine.

Some of you will be using the Polaroid Camera and the typewriters in the Center. Below is a word list with some of the words you will need to know if you use the camera or typewriter.

LIFE CENTERED CURRICULUM PROGRAM
(Elementary Career Education)

PURPOSE:

The Life Centered Curriculum of the Syracuse City School District is essentially a reorganization of the present elementary curriculum to include career education as an integral and inseparable component of the total educational process. Although the goal of education has always been preparation for living, Life Centered education aims to put equal emphasis on preparation for making a living as well.

In the design of the proposal to accomplish this, a "Life Centered" curriculum is seen as one in which all educational experiences, curriculum instruction, and counseling are geared to preparation for economic independence, personal fulfillment, social responsibility, self-awareness, and an appreciation for the dignity of work.

SCOPE:

The "Life Centered" curriculum, using social studies as a point of departure, will integrate all other curriculum areas to initiate a new emphasis to elementary education. In order to achieve this goal, it is recognized that:

- the elementary school is to be viewed in its organizational approach as consisting of two levels - primary (K-3) and intermediate (4-6),
- implementation of a continuous progress approach to curriculum, based on the concept of individualization of instruction, and that
- the curriculum will be built around the unit approach.

FRAMEWORK:

The Life Centered Curriculum combines the essential elements of Self-Awareness, Career Awareness and Educational Awareness, in order to create a social studies program which will reflect the accelerated changes of the future. For the purpose of organization we have renamed the elements: Self-Awareness - People, Educational Awareness - Places, and Career Awareness - Possibilities. Each of these strands provides modes of instruction on all elementary levels. The twenty-eight units listed on the next page broaden the existing scope of the Social Studies syllabi, infuse the new awarenesses and are oriented, wherever possible, to individualized instruction.

Self-Awareness - People
Educational Awareness - Places
Career Awareness - Possibilities

TEACHER INVOLVEMENT

A distinct and thorough effort was made to involve all the teachers in the district through regional meetings to present the aims and processes of the program. As a result of these meetings, an Elementary Curriculum Revision Committee was formed with the following characteristics:

- a) Each of the 31 public and 5 non-public buildings served by the proposal would have two representatives, one primary and one intermediate.
- b) This committee, after thorough orientation, would be responsible for writing the twenty-eight units of instruction.
- c) Each teacher on the E.C.R.T. would pilot the program in his/her classroom during the 1973-74 school year, and assist in further development of the program through feedback and evaluation.
- d) A rewrite team, during summer 1974, would be responsible for using the feedback of school year 1973-74 in order to prepare units for district wide pilot 1974-75 school year.

FORMAT:

The Life Centered Curriculum units take the following form: each objective is accompanied by a variety of approaches to instruction. i.e. large group, small group or independent strategies and student activity sheets. The intent of this variety of strategies for each objective is to provide alternatives for the teacher to meet the learning needs of the individuals in the classroom.

THE PILOT:

During the limited pilot (1973-74) year, and district wide pilot (1974-75) year, much stress will be placed upon expansion of the units and refinement of strategies as they are used in the classroom. A primary goal is to supplement these strategies with new ones that the teachers have found successful. The result? An ever developing, student centered, teacher written program of learning activities, which integrates the entire educational process with the concepts of career education, an education for life.

THE SYRACUSE COMMUNITY:

The Life Centered Curriculum recognizes that local business and industry has much to contribute to the relevance of public education and that utilizing existing community resources is one of the best ways to maximize instruction. For this reason, representatives of local business and industry, parent and community groups have been enlisted as members of the Elementary Curriculum Revision Team and have added their perspective to the developing instructional materials. The Syracuse community serves as a source of resource persons, teaching materials, field trip sites, consultants and advisors to the School District.

FIRST PROPOSAL:

The Life Centered Curriculum Program in the Syracuse City School District had its roots in the exemplary career education program, initiated in the District in 1970. The main thrust of this program has been to introduce the concept of career education into the elementary grades, while at the same time seeking the cooperation of business and industry in the Syracuse area.

BACKGROUND AND COMPONENTS

The program begins in the fifth grade with a unit entitled, An Introduction to the World of Work. This is a consumable student workbook designed to meet the following objectives:

- 1 - to develop an awareness of the world of work by completion of a program of self-assessment in relationship to careers
- 2 - to develop an understanding of the relationship of school to work
- 3 - to develop an understanding of the meaning of work in our economic system including such concepts as Division of Labor and interdependence, and the importance of work
- 4 - build an understanding of the vocabulary of the world of work.

The sixth grade program is a broader and more intensive effort, primarily social studies and language arts, aimed at increasing the child's awareness of the world of work as part of his developing self. It takes the following form:

- a) Classroom Orientation - a review of the fifth grade Introduction to the World of Work, with additional lessons on Social Security, applications, interviews, labor, management, etc.
- b) Career Center - each classroom makes two full morning visits to the Center in Franklin elementary school. Here are housed seventeen large learning stations, each one depicting a job family representative of opportunities in the Syracuse area. Local industrial and business concerns have cooperated in furnishing these exhibits which are clever, unusual, and thought provoking. These visits provide a springboard for a worthwhile study of the world of work as they provide direct contact with the employees viewpoint in career information. Through directed activity in each booth, the student gathers information about career ladders, job requirements and the nature of work in that career area.
- c) Individualized Career Studies - the instructional heart of the program is in the completion of these self-directed studies. From a list of twenty-one job families, each student makes three choices depending on his/her interests. Each of the twenty-one multi-modal studies has been prepared on three ability levels, and the teacher prescribes the correct level for each child. In addition, each classroom is provided with a trunk of all the resource materials necessary for the students to progress independently through their studies. Built into this portion of the program are as many "out of classroom" activities as possible, e.g. field trips, resource people, parent involvement, etc. The overall result is a highly motivating classroom experience for each student, utilizing social studies and language arts to achieve career awareness, while developing responsibility through self-directed study.

LIST OF CAREER STUDIES AVAILABLE: Airport Workers, People Who Work with Animals, Auto Workers, People Who Work in Conservation, Cosmetology, Fashion and Clothing Careers, Firefighters, Health Careers, Careers in Heavy Construction, Careers in House Construction, Hospital Careers, Newspaper Careers, Post Office Workers, Careers in Restaurant Work, School Workers, Store Workers, Telephone Workers, Careers in T.V. and Radio, Careers in Transportation.

- d) The Skill-Trainer Laboratory - The culminating experience of the program takes place for each child in the Skill Trainer Laboratory. During three half day visits, the student is able to have hands-on experiences with the job families he/she has been studying and observing. Here the student is able to "taste" what it is like to practice the skills associated with his/her expanding field of interest. Children in the Skill Trainer Laboratory demonstrate a remarkable degree of involvement in their tasks; not only are they applying basic reading and math skills to their projects, but also they experience unusual motivation through independent progress.

This entire program for grades 5-6 was written by a team of ten classroom teachers from Syracuse in March 1970. After a thorough inservice prior to implementation, the career studies were field tested for one year in thirty-eight classrooms. This provided feedback, revision and expansion of the materials by the original writing team. Since then, this program has been used in sixty-five sixth grade classes and ninety-five fifth grade classes each year.

Having been proved overwhelmingly successful, various activities of this grade 5-6 program will be written in as strategies of the Life Centered Curriculum units.

The 1974-75 school year will see the Life Centered curriculum being pilot tested on a district wide basis in the Syracuse City School District.

What's the Problem?

Why all the talk about career education?

850,000 elementary and secondary dropouts.

750,000 general curriculum students with no salable skill and who do not go to college.

850,000 college dropouts who do not complete the 1,2, or 4 year program.

This represents over 85% of the students in the United States.

Throughout our educational system there should be maintained an active relationship between the academic world and the world in which people earn a living.

*This relationship is what we are striving for in Career

The deer and the mountain goat get a heavier coat of hair to keep them warm in winter. The bear eats as much as he can. Then he hibernates. The badger, woodchuck, and turtle hibernate, too.

Wild geese and ducks fly south. We say they migrate. Frogs may sprawl under stones in streams and ponds. Write the name of each animal near it on the picture.

SLEEPY TIME

Every fall, people say, "Animal sleepers are going to sleep for the fall."

Some animals do sleep through the winter. But many do not sleep soundly.

On warm, sunny days, they may wake up. They may go outside to look around. Then, they go to sleep again.

Chipmunks wake up often. Bears and woodchucks wake up once in a while, the bat and the jumping mouse are the soundest sleepers. When spring comes, the sleepers awake.

Check the sentence that is right in each pair.

1. ☐ Some animals sleep through winter.
☐ Some animals sleep through spring.
2. ☐ Winter sleepers all sleep soundly.
☐ Some winter sleepers wake up often.
3. ☐ Some winter sleepers wake up on warm days.
☐ Winter sleepers come out on the coldest days.
4. ☐ On warm days, winter sleepers may go out to look around.
☐ On warm days, winter sleepers go out to find a cooler place.
5. ☐ After waking up, all winter sleepers stay awake.
☐ Some winter sleepers often go back to sleep.
6. ☐ Chipmunks wake up often.
☐ Chipmunks wake up very seldom.
7. ☐ Bats are awake most of the winter.
☐ Bats are wourd winter sleepers.

Check the best ending for each sentence.

1. Some animals hibernate to ☐ get through winter hardships
☐ grow longer fur
2. Most of the winter sleepers
☐ wake up now and then
☐ are birds

UNIT: CHANGING ROLES

Evaluation Information
p. 108

NOTE TO THE TEACHER:

On the following page is an evaluation post test c.f. the unit. The first part covers physical, temporal, and technological changes we all counter. The second part covers role changes, and the desired response views, age, and not sex, as a factor in role change.

If the children have not developed the concept that these jobs can be done by all people without limitation of sex, then the unit needs to be retaught.

This test may be used as a Pretest and could profitably determine how much the children are in need of developing concepts with regard to changing roles.
